

February 2, 1992

Personal memo from
JOSHUA LEDERBERG

To: Pnina Abir-Am ↙

Dear Pnina:

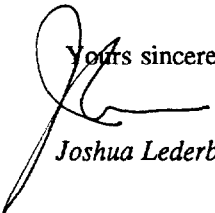

I'm afraid I have to disappoint you on 2/3 of what you asked.

- 1). No, I just don't want to go into my "collaboration" with Esther.
- 2). About Toronto: I just don't have the time to prepare a paper. Try Charlie Yanofsky at Stanford or Ed Adelberg at Yale -- both also former students of Ed Tatum. If his health is up to it: Norman Horowitz at Caltech. Also feasible, Evelyn Witkin at Rutgers (a Demerec student who has made important contributions to DNA repair research.) She's just retired and started a second career in 19th C. English poetry, but might be persuaded.

Bernard Davis (Harvard-Med Micro) would be excellent!

- 3) I'll try to get you a copy of the Ezrahi workshop

Thanks for the reports

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg

THE ROCKEFELLER UNIVERSITY -- New York 10021-6399